About the John Pinkerton

JOHN PINKERTON II was launched by the Basingstoke Canal Society in 2013, replacing the original John Pinkerton trip boat after 36 years of service. The trip boats have now raised nearly £1 million – all of which has been spent by volunteers from the Society on the restoration, maintenance and improvement of the Basingstoke Canal.

The John Pinkerton II conforms to Government safety regulations and is crewed by well-trained volunteer members of The Basingstoke Canal Society. The boat is licensed to carry 50 passengers. Seating can be arranged as required, so is ideally suitable for smaller private parties, or wedding receptions, business meetings and social outings of all kinds.

The natural surroundings of the boat provides a pleasant venue for any event, at a very competitive price. The boat has a toilet, and is covered for cruising in all weathers. On board facilities include connection to a sound system for your ipod / mp3 player (via a mini-jack).

There is a well stocked licensed bar on board, with light refreshments, tea and coffee. Corkage facilities are available by prior arrangement with the Booking Manager.

About the Canal Society

THE BASINGSTOKE CANAL SOCIETY was formed in 1966 to save the then privately owned waterway from dereliction, and campaigned for its restoration under public ownership. From 1973 the new Hampshire and Surrey County Council owners funded a programme of restoration supported by the Society, Inland Waterways Association and other groups who organised volunteer working parties along the Canal length. Initial dredging was carried out by the Society using a steam dredger. In 1991, after nearly 25 years effort by many volunteers, 32 miles were re-opened as a navigation.

Since then, the Society has changed its focus from one of promoting a restoration project to one of safeguarding the future of the Canal for boating, local amenity, heritage and wildlife. It supports the Canal with volunteers' efforts of fundraising, work parties, and providing a lengthmen's scheme. Its aim is to secure a sustainable future for the Canal, thus preventing it again falling into dereliction.

The Society was proud to receive the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service during 2018, presented by the Duke of Kent.

The Society welcomes new members, and many opportunities are available for volunteers to suit personal skills. Crewing and maintaining the Society trip boats are popular activities; and all proceeds from boat trips go towards the maintenance of the Canal.
